

Yarrandale Provisional School 1903-1930

The Yarrandale School as first located about 1 1/2 miles off the Old Cootamundra Road on the hill (what was known as O'Connors Road is now Trigalong-Sebastopol Road). The school started according to the register of admission on 19th January, 1903, the first names on the register were Walter Julian, Ernest Warren and Ernest Cartwright. The first schoolmaster was Mr Spratt, followed by Mr Lawler, Mr Garnham (who was killed at Gallipoli), Mr Carrol and Mr Yates until Mr J Fitzpatrick's time.

The teachers of those days had to cope with ages ranging from six years to sixth class (leaving age) all in the same class, with sometimes up to 50 children.

Yarrandale School was hit by a severe storm and blown down in the late 1920s and the Ex-Stanleyville school was relocated to the corner of Old Cootamundra Road and Trigalong-Sebastopol Road about three miles from Temora (where a stock dam now is). Yarrandale was then renamed Wilna in 1930. The schoolmaster at the at time was Mr J Fitzpatrick.
